

REJOICE AND LET US SING TOGETHER

By Milton A Lites

Rejoice and let us sing together
Praise the God who reigns above
Broken now is strong tether
Sing, we now our hymn of love

Born the son of God eternal
Christ the Gulf of ages span
Born a King and had a servant
As God's prophecy had planned

Once upon the cross, he languished,
Bearing there our sins and grief
Scoffed at by the unbelieving
Yet accepted by a thief

Deaths dark prison could not hold him
Christ the risen, Lord adore.
Living—sinless, dying—blameless
Risen— deathless evermore!
